

NIPA CONTACT SHEET

Issue 2 - December 2022

Acting President's Welcome

Seasons Greetings to All,
I doubt I'd be the only person thinking that this year has just flown past! Firstly, sincere thanks for all the lovely comments and kind words said and sent to me regarding our first NIPA newsletter. I know I said that the second might not be so long, but I may have been wrong, very wrong and the positive side shows how much is going on! I think the newsletter has exposed two things. Firstly, that communication to members can be delayed (so we will be looking at improving that) and secondly, that there is a real need to share all the great activities and celebrate all that is going on within NIPA and within our clubs.

Since I stepped up to my role as Acting President, I have been looking at the other Federations under the PAGB umbrella. There are 15 including NIPA. One Federation has 117 clubs, we have 25! However, we in NIPA are unique in that we offer the opportunity for all clubs to meet on a regular basis in our InterClub, Novice and Roy Finlay Competitions. This is a great achievement for NIPA and one to be celebrated and cherished. It's such a great opportunity to network with other clubs and their members and to see many other images.

Merry Christmas

In the last 4 weeks we have hosted Round 2 in Dungannon, an incredibly successful PAGB Awards for Photographic Merit in Antrim and the Roy Finlay Memorial Natural History Competition! All very well run, with great coordination and superb organisation between NIPA volunteers and both Clubs and the PAGB. I think we all deserve a rest over Christmas. Make it a "snappy" one! Anita

Awards for Photographic Merit

The PAGB APM event, hosted by NIPA, was held on Saturday 26 November. The PAGB team commented on the high standard of images on display and the great venue. Thank you to all the NIPA members who applied for awards; we were delighted by the local response.

The PAGB APM went off without a hitch on Saturday 26th November, and that is down to the amazing volunteers who worked so hard behind the scenes. As Organising Secretary, Chelle McGaughey sent a huge thank you to all the NIPA council members who volunteered for the event.

Antrim: Ivan Stewart

Ards: Peter Knott

Ballynahinch: Alan Chowney

BPIC: Billy Leahey

Carrick: Dave Beattie

Catchlight: Darren Brown

City of Belfast: William Allen

CPA: Helen Honeyman and Maia McGaughey

Merville: Ian Lyons and Raymond Hughes

RAW: Paul Lavery

Shorts: John Belshaw

The PAGB team especially noted the stellar work of the team who sorted and handled the images, where it is very easy for things to go wrong.

THANK YOU

PAGB - Awards for Photographic Merit - Antrim 26 Nov 2022

Welcome by Immediate Past President Howard Tate

The sorting room!

"Better to Try and Fail, Than Never to Try at All"

It's important to acknowledge that there were many people who submitted panels, that just didn't make the cut off scores to gain an award on that day.

Many hours of taking images, editing, printing & mounting, only to have disappointment at the end. Let's celebrate the work that's gone into getting that far!

I know from personal experience that failure can be one of the best strategies for learning. You'll come back even stronger in your photography!

Well done for submitting & Good luck for next time!

I have got a few of the successful panels from the event. If you're not featured this time, please send me your panel and I'll post it in January's NIPA Contact Sheet.

To understand the values provided on the following displayed CPAGB, DPAGB and MPAGB panels you need to read the following PAGB full explanation.

In short, just note that the values represent a summation of the 6 assessors who vote Yes (4), No (2) or Near Miss (3) for each image. At C and D level you need an average score of 20 per image and at M an average score of 22.5 to be successful.

NOT SCORES BUT VOTES

For convenience, we announce and record a total score, but we instruct the Adjudicators to consider these as Votes.

A YES vote is recorded by pressing 4 and a NO vote by pressing 2. This, of course, means that good pictures which are not quite up to the standard may receive six NO votes and a score of 12. This is not an indicator of the value of that photograph in relation to other scores, simply that 6 adjudicators agreed that it was not up to the standard required. Since a score of 200 is required to secure CPAGB and 300 for DPAGB, there is an assumption that 20 is the score to look for. In fact, you should aim for six adjudicators to vote YES, giving a score of 24 per photograph.

A vote can be lodged for a NEAR MISS by pressing 3, but we stress that this is a very near miss, not just a better 2 than a previous picture. We are not placing a relative value on the photograph, simply voting Yes or No, so it is important that the NEAR MISS vote is used carefully. After all, 4 votes of NEAR MISS and just two votes of YES will result in a score of 20. $3+3+3+3+4+4$. This can result in a passing entry when only 2 adjudicators thought that the pictures were good enough.

For the MPAGB, although use of the NEAR MISS button is permitted, we are particularly keen that the judges should try to vote YES or NO. From the entrants' point of view, this can result in a disappointingly low score, but this does not indicate the value of the picture – just that they agreed that it did not quite reach the standard required.

The 5 VOTE is only used when the photograph is considered likely to achieve a YES vote of 4 at the next level up. If you achieve a score of 24 at (say) CPAGB, this means that all six adjudicators thought it was on the standard for that level but that none of them thought that it was good enough for the DPAGB. So, when you think about entering for DPAGB, you should consider the possibility that your pictures could score up to 6 points less than they did at CPAGB.

SUMMARY

Our adjudicators do not score the photographs. They vote YES or NO, with some leeway to vote NEAR MISS or GOOD ENOUGH FOR THE NEXT LEVEL. The process is to Pass or to Fail and you should not be discouraged if your scores fall well short of the total required. A score as low as 12 simply means that all 6 Adjudicators thought it was not up to the standard required. It could be quite a close decision and you may have missed by very little.
